8. Atelier September

This café is a very popular breakfast and lunch spot for the hip copenhagengers. Atelier September is located right in the city centre on top of a gallery. The interior is minimalistic and the atmosphere is relaxed. Try their famous "avokadomad". cafeatelierseptember.com

9. Café Dyrhaven

Try a traditional Danish lunch at Café Dyrhaven at Vesterbro. Grab a seat outside, and watch the street style of local people biking by. They serve really delicious "Smørrebrød" and have a great selection of local beers. dyrehavenkbh.dk

DINNER

10. Osteria 16

At Osteria 16 you can get some simple and tasty Italian antipasto. The menu consists of 8 antipasto plates at a price of 250 DKR. The restaurant is tiny, and makes you feel like you are in southern Europe. osteria16.dk

11. Geist

The lively and fashionable Restaurant Geist focuses on Nordic cuisine and the dishes are made to be shared. The best seats are at the bar where you can watch the busy chefs prepare the meals. restaurantgeist.dk

12. The Standard

The Standard is located in a newly restored Art Deco building right next to the harbour. The two restaurants, Studio and Almanak, serves classic Danish dishes and new Nordic food. At night the jazz bar comes to life with live performances thestandardcph.dk

13. Aamanns

If you haven't tried the traditional Danish Smørrebrød

(open sandwiches) yet, Restaurant Aamanns is the place to go. It's top quality and a little more expensive, but definitely worth it.

14. Fiskebaren

Købyens Fiskebaren serves a combination of fresh fish and colourful cocktails that go exceptionally well together. The bar is located in the Meatpacking District, which turns into a great place go for a night out after dark. fiskebaren.dk

15. Restaurant Taller

This progressive fine dining restaurant Taller is run by two good friends and former Noma chefs, Karlos and Lois. They experiment with plates inspired by the chef's home country, Venezuela. restaurant-taller.com

16. Bistro Pastis

Probably the best French bistro in town if you ask me. Everytime I eat at Pastis, I always order Moules Frites. Try to get a seat outside if it's a warm night. bistro-pastis.dk

DRINK

17. Ved Stranden 10

Ved Stranden 10, is located right next to the canal and across from the Parliament Building. There's no wine menu, but ask one of the expert waiters, they'll know exactly what you're after. vedstranden10.dk

18. Mikkeller Bar

The Mikkeller team is always experimenting with varieties and have a selection of over 40 different beers from their own microbrewery. I prefer the atmosphere and interior of Mikkeller & Friends located at Stefansgade (street). mikkeller.dk

EXPLORE

19. Copenhagen by bike

Copenhagen is a bike city, so the first thing you should do when you arrive, is to rent or borrow a bike while you're in town. It's the easiest way to get around and the best way to explore one of the world's only cities made for bikes.
